I. C. C. REPORTS GREAT PROGRESS FOR RAILROADS

Transportation This Year Unequaled —Car Shortage Eliminated and General Service Charges Reduced

MANY LINES MAKING SIX PER CENT RETURN

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec., 14.—Transportation history during the current year has been marked by "unequaled performance" of railroad service the Interstate Commerce Commission declared in its annual report.

With an unprecedented volume to handle, carriers almost eliminated car shortage, the report said, and kept equipment serviceable to an unusual extent. It was added that at the same time general charges placed upon the public for service were decreased.

"The effect during the calendar year of 1923 of rate reductions made in 1922 will be to lessen the total freight transportation charges paid by the shipping public by more than $500,000,000," the report said. We have referred to the stabilization of rates as one of the more important needs of commerce, and have not made any further investigations of rates during the present year. But the year has continued to be one of transition and readjustment of rates, largely by reductions."

No recommendations for new legislation were made in the report, though considerable attention was given to describing the work of controlling security issues, and increasing safety inspection efforts, as required by more recently enacted laws.

It was also revealed for the first time the government had obtained revenue from the "re-capture" clause of the Transportation Act. Though the carriers making the payments were not named, it was said the 10 railroads which earned more than an amount equal to six percent on the estimated value of the property used by them in transportation service had paid over to the commission half of such excess earnings, or approximately $96,000, which is now held by the treasury. The validity of the law is still being contested in the courts, the report pointed out, and in consequence the money was paid under protest by the corporations concerned.

About 35 railroads, the report continued, appeared on the basis of preliminary audits, to have earned excess amounts during 1922. Figures have not been completed for 1923. The Transportation Act, in directing the commission to fix rates so that railroads might, so far as possible, earn six per cent on the value of their property, directed that half of the excess over such a return should be taken by the government to be placed in general railroad contingent fund, for which loans might be made to railroads generally, if needed. The commission was given power to alter the fair return rate, and has cut it down to 53-4 per cent for 1923 and later years. The report indicated that 26 roads had earned more than 6 per cent in 1921, as compared with the 35 in 1922.

In the matter of dealing with war time railroad control, the report indicated an almost clearing up of accounts. A total of $501,322,000 has been paid to carriers under the Transportation Act provisions guaranteeing railroad earnings for six months after termination of the federal control, and but $37,677,00 remains to be paid when all accounts are adjusted. The ability of roads to finance themselves, for the most part, without further application for government loans was indicated by the statement that during the year the commission had authorized security issues having a total par value of $1,213,054,000, and had likewise authorized the issuance of 1,020,000 shares of common stock having no par value.

LOST SLIPPER AWAITS CLAIMING BY CINDERILLA

Cinderilla's slipper has been found. It is not made of silver nor is it extremely petite in size, nevertheless it is a very good article of footwear and has doubtless been missed by Cinderilla. The man who found it is not a prince, at least not in the fairy tale conception of the term, and he is certainly not trying to find a princess by the shoe.

The finder was William Wallbrecht and the shoe occupies a prominent place in his shop window.

U. OF K. PROFESSOR IN BOK CONTEST

Proposes World Federation Bank in Plan Submitted for World Peace Prize.

By Associated Press.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 14.—J. C. Jones, professor of political science at the University of Kentucky, has entered a plan in the nationwide contest for the Bok peace prize, he said today.

Prof. Jones proposes that the Federal Reserve Banking system of the United States, the Bank of London, the Bank of France and the Reichsag Bank of Germany, combine into a world federation bank whose capital stock shall be distributed so as to give the United States 51 per cent of the capital stock; the Bank of London 20 per cent; the Bank of France 12 per cent; the Bank of Germany 8 per cent; the balance of the stock to remain as treasury stock which may be distributed to other nations at some future time.

He further gave as his proposal that the control of the bank be under a directorate, which shall be chosen by the different nations involved, whose voting strength shall be in proportion with the amount of stock held.

According to a statement given out by Prof. Jones, his proposals are made in order to finance the business of the world with safe credit securities; to issue standardized currency, and against securities similar to the place now in use by the Federal Reserve system in the United States; to prevent any nation from going into war without the financial aid and without taking precautions laid down in the League of Nations pact; and to refuse financial support to any nation in the League of Nations pact which supports financially, any nation which has not fulfilled the stipulations of the league.

MILLION MARKS CHRISTMAS GIFT FROM FRIEND IN MUNICH

A million marks for a merry Christmas was the gift Wheeler Woodson received today from his friend Herman Allen of Munich, Germany. The million marks are worth about one-quarter of a cent in United States money. Mr. Woodson is very proud of the gift. Mr. Allen was professor in the University of Chicago two years ago and the guest of Mr. Woodson during the summer. He is now studying in the universities of Germany.

SAYS POOR NOT IN U. S. CHURCHES

Detroit Pastor Declares This Fact Limits Church Social Service Value

By Associated Press.

Columbus, O., Dec., 14—Because the membership of the churches is made up of the middle classes and the real poor do not attend services, the Church as a whole has found a rather difficult task to undertake responsibility for humanizing industry, according to the Rev. Reinhold Nieburh, pastor of the Bethe Evangelical Church, Detroit, Michigan who opened the discussion on the social service at the annual meeting of the Executive Committee of the Federal Council of Churches this evening. He declared the tremendous wealth of our country keeps the needs of the workers from becoming as urgent as they are in Europe. Dr. Nieburh said in part:

"The people who bear the burdens of modern industry and suffer from its moral limitations are, on the whole, not in the churches. The people in the churches are the higher middle class who reap whatever advantages modern machine industry brings to the few, and the lower middle classes who enjoy the comforts and the conveniences which are the real blessings of modern industry with its high mechanical efficiency and tremendous productivity. We can therefore, if we want to remain gloriously oblivious to the task of humanizing industry.

"Yet we might learn a lesson from Europe if the problem is not urgent enough here to teach us the lesson. In Europe the worker is out of the church generally hostile to any Christian conception of life. He is going to build a world brotherhood upon the unsound foundations of class hatred, and how will he be reclaimed from his cynical attitude except the Church is able to prove that Christianity is a power which can persuade men to equalize privilege and humanize industrial life in the interest of the Kingdom of God? And how can our worker be persuaded not to follow the class conscious labor movements of Europe if we do not validate the gospel of the brotherhood by actually making progress in the establishment of a brotherhood which really places human personality above profits?

LOCAL WOMAN'S CLUB OVERWHELMINGLY FOR COOLIDGE

Coolidge will be elected president by an overwhelming majority if the nation votes like the members of the Middlesboro Woman's club. Out of the twenty-six votes submitted in the straw vote taken by the club for Good Housekeeping magazine, Coolidge received fifteen. Wilson came next with five while his son-in-law received four. Underwood and Hoover received one vote each.

SIX INCHES SNOW FALLS LAST NIGHT

Deepest Snowfall in Three Years—Extend Through South to Alabama

The deepest snowfall that has been recorded here for three years fell last night, according to B. H. Perkins, weather observer. Measured in several places, the depth of the snow averaged six inches, he stated. The temperature which was warm yesterday morning made a rapid descent. Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock it was thirty-eight but dropped to twenty during the night.

The snowfall came as a climax to the heavy rain which fell yesterday. Late in the afternoon, the rain changed to sleet which gradually merged into beautiful, flaky snow. This fell until a late hour last night, entirely covering the town with a sparkling blanket of white.

The temperature rose rapidly this morning, however, and indications are that the snow will have melted within a few days.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Winter today traced icy fingers through the southwest into the southern tier of states with snow as far as Alabama and a cold wave predicted to penetrate even southern Florida. Predictions generally were for much colder weather throughout southern states today with clouds presaging snow in many portions.

LETTERS TO U. K. FOOTBALL PLAYERS

Curtis Sanders Made 1924 Captain—Attention Now Turns to Ball.

The football season of the University of Kentucky came to a close last Monday night with a banquet, the election of the 1924 captain and the award of letters. Curtis Sanders, of Nicholasville, playing his third year at fullback, was unanimously elected captain of the next year's Varsity. This is a very popular choice with the student body, for "Sandy" was Kentucky's most consistant player this season.

The men who receive the coveted "K" are: Captain Ramsey, Captain elect Sanders, Brewer, Cammack, Hughes, Gregg, Kirwan, King, Martin, McFarland, Russell, A. T. Rice, Sauer, Stephenson, Tracy, and Van Zant. A letter will also be given to the parents of the late Price McLean, who died of injuries received in the game with Cincinnati.

With the football season a thing of the past, basketball takes the limelight, and from all indications, said light will be very bright. Thirty men have already reported for the Varsity and others will soon put in their appearance. Leter men of last year who have reported are: Captain Rice, Poyntz, Boren, Riefken, and Wilkerson.

Coach Bucheit, former Illinois star, will probably use last year's freshmen team as a nucleus for the squad. This team is the "Blue Devil" U. S. Champions of 1922. All are in school here except Carey, who is at Washington and Lee.

The current season begins here with a set-to with Vanderbilt, on January 1. A hard schedule follows with such opponents as Miss. A. & M., Tennessee, Centre, West Virginia, Clemson, Virginia, V. P. I. and Georgia Tech. The Southern Tournament begins February 25 at Atlanta and Kentucky hopes to again capture the championship she won in 1922.

CHICAGO BIDS FOR PARTY CONVENTION

Non-Partisan Movement to Get Democrats—New York and St. Louis Among Competitors.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec., 14.—Word of a civic non-partisan movement in Chicago to secure next year's Democratic National Convention was received here today at national Democratic headquarters. The convention city will be selected January fifteenth with Chicago as an active bidder. Competition will be widened to include New York and St. Louis and possibly San Francisco, Kansas City and Atlanta.

SELL GOOD ROADS CALENDARS HERE

Mrs. R. L. Maddox of Woman's Club Chairman of Sale for Kentucky Association

Mrs. R. L. Maddox has been named as chairman of the campaign in Middlesboro to sell the Kentucky School Children's Good Roads Poster Calendars which are being distributed throughout the United States by the Kentucky Good Roads Association and which is being handled in Middlesboro Woman's Club. These Calendars with a map of the primary system are now on sale here for a nominal sum. This method was adopted by the Roads Association as the best possible means to obtain distribution.

These calendars, which are being done in three colors, are in twelve sheets—one sheet for each month of the year—and they make a handsome and unusually artistic production. They are 14 inches wide and 20 inches high, placed on a high grade quality of heavy paper. Each poster occupies practically the entire space of the sheet the calendar itself being 21 inches wide and 2 inches high. Each sheet presents a separate message or idea from the children on the subject of good roads, and every one carries a ringing slogan expressing the need for better roads in terms of what they will mean to the children.

The posters selected for the calendar are the first prize winners from each of the eleven Congressional Districts, and one from the State at large. The cover, or outside sheet of the calendar will give the names of all of the 21 prize winners, together with a long list of those deserving honorable mention.

HEALTH SERVICE TO MAKE STUDY OF COMMON COLDS

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec., 13.—A detailed study of common colds is to be made by the Public Health Service in co-operation with a number of the country's leading universities. Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon general, says colds and influenza and similar conditions are responsible for a great deal of sufferling, loss of time, disability and a not inconsiderable number of deaths.

He says there are few if any, individuals who do not suffer from some acute respiratory condition at least once a year, losing from a day to a week or more as a result and some attacks develop into more serious conditions, at times even a latent pulmonary tuberculosis being lighted up.

Comparatively little is definitely known as to the real causes, distribution, manner of spread, and epidemiology of these so called minor respiratory ailments, Dr. Cumming says and this detailed study being undertaken is expected to be of value in attempting to prevent these afflictions.

The work will be actively undertaken at Harvard University, Johns Hopkins Medical School, Georgetown and Howard Universities, Washington; Tulane University, New Orleans Ohio State University, University of Chicago, and University of California. It is anticipated the studies will extend over two or three years.

STATE AID FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS

Board Still At Work To Assist Wounded Ex-Service Men, Has Helped 3000

The Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board, which was created for the purpose of assisting the disabled ex-service men of Kentucky in properly presenting and prosecuting their claims against the Government, has obtained approximately three thousand awards, entitling disabled men to compensation, vocational training, hospitalization and treatment.

Investigation has developed the fact that there are still many ex-service men who were disabled in the late war who have meritorius claims which have not been satisfactorilly adjusted. Many of these men are more in need of assistance now than at any time since the war. On account of their disabilities they have found it impossible to carry on much longer without treatment and assistance and although their claims are meritorious they have not been settled because they have not been properly prepared and presented so as to meet the requirements of the law and Veteran's Bureau regulations.

Any ex-service man who was disabled in the late war, or as a result of his service, will receive every possible assistance without cost to him by sending his full name, organization, claim number and address to the secretary, Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board, 707 Louisville Trust Building, Louisville, Kentucky.

SUGGESTIONS FOR ESSAY CONTEST

School Children Writing on Pioneer Life Must Have Essays in by December 21

A letter received here in regard to the state wide Pioneer Memorial Association essay contest which closes Friday, December 21, makes the following recommendations:

The school children in your county and city are writing essays on the pioneer life of their respective counties and of the state at large. These essays will soon be in the hands of those who are to determine their respective merits. We suggest to the Superintendents that the following points among others, should be considered in arriving at a decision as to which are the best:

1. Neatness and orderliness of execution in the material form of the essays.

2. Naturalness of the story told and its interest and originality.

3. Clearness of statements and simplicity of language.

4. Accuracy in the use of words, correctness of spelling and punctuation.

5. Unity of the essay as a complete word picture of some part of pioneer history.

OLD FIDDLERS CONTEST AT TAZEWELL DECEMBER 3

The following item is taken from the Claiborne Progress:

Tazewell is assured of a real holiday treat for the holidays. On the evening of December 31, at the court house in Tazewell, there will be an old fashioned fiddlers contest.

Each contestant will be required to render five pieces of his own selection, the fifth and last one to be an old time sacred hymn.

Judges will be selected to award the prizes. All contestants will be entertained at the supper before the contest opens. The admission will be 15 and 25 cents.

All of the old time fiddlers in the surrounding country are invited to be present and participate, and the public is cordially invited to attend. This may be your last chance to hear some of them, so be sure to attend.

PRELIMINARIES 1921 CITY ASSESSMENT BEGIN SOON

Preliminary work of the 1921 city assessment will begin about January 1, according to William Wallbrecht, assessor. The books must be copied from the old records before the work can really begin and this, it is thought will require a month or more.

A vast amount of work is involved in the city assessment work. Not only must each property owner name be properly recorded in the book but also complete information concerning the location, value, etc., this being accompanied with sections of the city map. A large part of Mr. Wallbrecht's time next year will be taken up with the assessment work.

RESPONSIBILITY OF OPENING NEW STREET SHIFTS

State Engineer and Construction Company Both Refuse to Shoulder Matter and East End Re mains Closed

BLOCK TO SIXTEENTH BELIEVED READY TO OPEN

Neither the state engineer nor Humbard Construction company officials being willing to take the responsibility of possible damages to the asphalt paving resulting from opening the Fifteenth to Sixteenth street block now, the block is at present closed and there are no hopes for its early opening.

C. V. Cline, state engineer, stated this morning that the work had been done according to specifications and had been down long enough to be opened. He gave permission to have it opened with the understanding that the state would not bear the The block was accordingly opened for a few hours and a number of vehicles went over it.

Herbert Kidd, superintendent of the Humbard Construction company, was not willing to be responsible for damages that might develop from such action and had the street closed about noon.

While he believes that serious damage would not result from a use of the paving in its present condition, and carried on the new asphalt might "pick up" some of it, thus causing it to be uneven in places, he stated, a condition that would be "ironed out" with the coming of warm weather. Should any damage develop, the construction company could not collect its bill until the damage was repaired, he stated, and they cannot afford to run such a risk by opening the street as long as there is any possibility of impairing the street.

Mr. Cline stated that he did not have the authority to place the responsibility of opening the street on the state, but that the work had been done according to specifications, and that, in his opinion, the street would not be damaged by opening the block. He suggested that merchants or others interested confer with J. S. Watkins, district engineer, to determine whether he would accept the responsibility for the state.

The condition of the street and the chances for its early opening have been popular themes for discussion today. Merchants claim out of town customers are being kept away by the detour and that business here is being ruined.

LOCAL RED CROSS POSTERS WILL BE USED NATIONALLY

Posters made by Middlesboro school children which were shown at the regional Red Cross meet at Richmond recently and left there for further inspection and study have been returned to Miss Wilhelmine Marx who was in charge of the work. A request from Washington has been made for the pictures and they will be sent there for extensive exhibition. Red Cross officials and educators who saw the posters at the regional conference stated that both the idea and the manner in which it had been illustrated were excellent.

A THOUGHT

He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack, but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse—Prov 28 27

The miser, poor fool not only starves his body but destroys his soul Theodore Parker

LET'S BE SANTA CLAUS

Do you know of any poor children whose tattered unworn stocking will be empty on Christmas morning who cling faith in the apparent neglect of the good saint Perhaps you don't know of such cases and if you did you would play Santa Claus for some lucky girl Not many of us have the means the time for investigating and bringing to light cases of poverty which we may relieve and for the reason we have our charitable organization to make these investigations

This newspaper, assisted by Miss Mark who will make the investigations is conducting an Empty Stocking Fund campaign in which the public is invited to take an interest by contributing something toward cheering Christmas for an unfortunate child or needy person or family

We have our organized charities to care for ordinary cases of concern and these are doing a splendid work But no one expects to have something extra for Christmas however a good dinner a warm garment or a useful gift There are hundreds of people in Middlesboro who are not able to afford these items of them not even daily want for the necessities of life Surely every person in this town should at least be given a substantial nourishing dinner on the greatest holiday of the year and this may be accomplished if the Empty Stocking Fund is supported literally by the public

Christmas is particularly appropriate for us to show our kind for indigent children The Prince of Peace whose name we revere in Christmas services often indicated his fondness for the little ones Certainly we could do no act more commensurate with the true Christmas spirit than to contribute to the happiness of one of these

COUNTRY LIFE A TRAINING SCHOOL

The Manchester Guardian has a lot to say in favor of the farm as the best place to produce a race of thoughtful men especially original thoughts It thinks the future of the country is being shaped by the quiet thinkers living in small villages in rural communities

The Editorial follows

The old time complaint against rural life was that it was too dull As conditions now are with plenty going on in the majority of country towns, with autos bike to take the folks flying around the country, not much is heard about isolation

People need a certain amount of isolation in order to make the best of their natures The majority of great men came from small town Their quiet lives gave them a chance to think and study They acquired deeper perceptions of human nature and were able to shape out plans that would improve human life

"The ideas of such men are apt to be practical, and to fit human nature They have seen many new ideas tried out, which promised brilliant success, but proved not to fit in with human nature The man who has lived in intimate contact with neighbors in a country town will have restraining common sense that keeps him sane When he suggests some idea for the improvement of society and the state it is apt to be sound and to appeal to the masses of the people.

"The person who lives in a crowd of citizens does not have much time to think He must act on truth as affected by new impressions that take the place of thought His mind is a kind of mirror that reflects the life of others but which originates no light of its own

The future of the country is the telling object lesson to the people who are doing quiet thinking and planning in the country town That is why it should never cry for the welfare of the nation that the country towns should be preserved and should give their young people educational advantages Country town life is a school in which the nation's best minds are being trained

Berton Braley's Poem

SPEAKING OF CHANCES

Young Martin Dooley Cullahan was as bright as he could be
And everybody predicted success
They said that All he needed was the opportunity
And he would be a knockout more or less

But Martin Dooley Cullahan was not to be found around
And he was very popular indeed
And what with invitation which he couldn't decide
He didn't have the heart to succeed

Oh Lady Opportunity came dancing at his bell,
She hammered on the windows and the door
But Martin didn't hear her and he couldn't very well
Although her call were numbered by the score

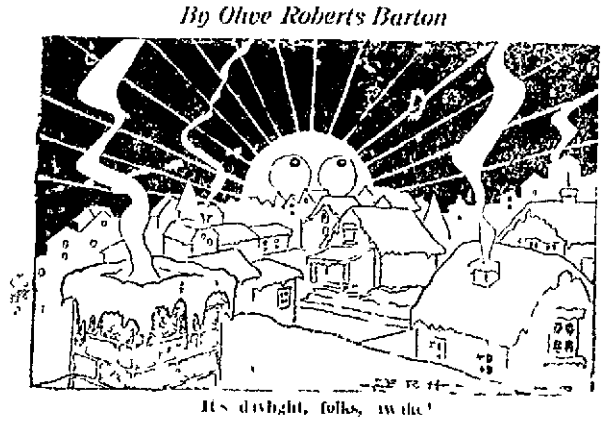
But Martin Dooley Cullahan was dreaming with a zine
Or on Coney Island playing with a skin,
So Lady Opportunity found all her visit vain
For Martin wasn't present when she rang

Oh Lady Opportunity trouped on Martin's trail
(A thing he doesn't practice, as a rule)
But Martin was so busy that he never heard her call
While he was busy dining out or playing pool

So Martin Dooley Cullahan is just a failure now
He somehow doesn't manage to advance
All all his friends remark of him,
He would have been a wow
If he had only had a decent chance!

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton



It's daylight, folks, awake!

The next riddle that the Riddle Family asked in Fiddle Land was this See if you can guess it as quickly as Nick did

There's a ship I know well
Who travels through the air
He sails along, from light to dark
And he's wondrous wise

He never takes the time
To go through the mail
Although he's loaded up with things
And he's built like a whale

He's not afraid of storms
Whether they're cold or hot
And he's always prompt
He often stops at Paris
And he's been heard to yell
Over the ocean, "Ahoy!"
He's been to the Pole
And he's been to the Nile

And he's chicken
And milk from the cow
And he comes here by plenty
He helps to our plow

And all you fiddle folk
And you sleepy eyes
And all the fish and turtle
And fleas and butterflies

And all the squirrel and rabbit
And fishes in the pool
And all the little girls and boys
Who have to go to school

He peeps in all the windows
He hates a sleepy head
And if perchance he's left out
He turns around and

But mostly he stops

HOMEY THINGS

Chintz curtains shading windows panes,
And rag rugs on a floor,
A singing pot upon the hearth,
(What heart could ask for more?)
And welcome always awaiting one
For a knock on the door.

But these were not enough to hold
A wild lad long ago.
The world awaits a rover's feet
And he was swift to go
To taste its joys and its mysteries,
And its grief and woe.

But now he dreams of homey things.
Else lures him not at all.
Blue plates upon a snowy shelf
Against a cottage wall.
And he'd go back to a homey house
When he'd heed no other call.

Meet Yesterday

An interesting meeting of Circles No 3 and 4 of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. V. G. Brummett, with Mrs. B. B. Campbell and Mrs. Brummett as hostesses. The program for the occasion included: Opening song, "Sweet Hour of Prayer"; Scripture reading, Psalms, 27, by Mrs. B. B. Campbell; prayer by Mrs. J. R. Hoe; duet, "Have Thine Own Way," Mrs. Cecil Owsley and Mrs. V. G. Brummett with Mrs. J. H. Brooks as accompanist; discussion of Chapters 3, 4 and 5, from the study book, "What Baptists Believe," by Mrs. F. P. Seales. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. B. I. Sparks and Mrs. O. R. Austin. The guests numbered twenty-six. Following the business session, a social hour was enjoyed and a salad course was served.

Wedding of Mrs. G. C. Woodson's Brother

The following from the Ashland Independent recounts the wedding of Ashley Blevins, brother of Mrs. G. C. Woodson of this city, and a visitor here several times in the past:

With the bride's home as its setting the wedding of Miss Gladys Virginia Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt of Forrest Hills to Mr. Ashley Blevins of Mt. Sterling, Ky., was beautifully celebrated Monday December the tenth at high noon, the nuptial service having been read by the Rev. W. C. Condit, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church of this city.

The home offered a most artistic setting for the ceremony with pink roses and magnificent chrysanthemums, ferns and palms placed in grace ful arrangement, throughout the long living room, dining room and sun parlor.

The bride one of Ashland's most beautiful and popular young girls was charmingly gowned in a smart going away costume of brown flat crepe her bridal arm bouquet was fashioned of valley lilies and orchids. Miss Gwendolyn Seaton daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Seaton who acted as maid wore a becoming toilette of rich brown lace and carried a shower boquet of pink sweetheart roses. The bride groom's best man was Ray Preston.

Following the ceremony the guests were served to a beautifully appointed luncheon.

At the bride's table, a lovely embossed wedding cake formed a central table ornament, and pink roses, sweet peas, smilax and tall pink tapers, made most attractive the table around which the following friends were seated: Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Blevins, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kentner, Jr., Miss Gwendolyn Seaton, Miss Laura Hart of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Gratton Woodson of Middlesboro, sister of the groom, Edwin Crawford, Jack Yates, and Ray Preston.

CHRISTMAS SEAL DOES BIG WORK

Doing More to Eradicate Tuberculosis In Whole World Than Any Thing Else

Louisville, Dec., 14.—A little penny seal, bearing the picture of a smiling Santa Claus, is doing more to eradicate tuberculosis than the whole world was doing for centuries prior to the organization of the National Tuberculosis Association. This little penny seal is the Christmas seal, so familiar on every Christmas letter and Christmas package, the seals having been put on sale in this state December by the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association. The Christmas Seal is the sole while source through which funds for the association are raised, the goal in Kentucky this year being $40,000.

The Christmas seal now helps pay the salaries of nurses in more than 40 Kentucky counties and to it is attributed the saving last year of 2,000 lives in this State. The seals are on sale through the local county health organizations or by the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association, 532 W. Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky.

The following editorial in the Courier-Journal is a tribute to this little life saver.

"The Tuberculosis Christmas Seal is now making its appearance, is a form of taxation that is unique in having no enemies. Unlike other taxes it is voluntary. In fact it is stretching a point to call it a tax at all. It is a stamp for letters and packages, and carries with the holliday gift well wishes for the sick and unfortunate who are the victims of tuberculosis.

"As the government stamps largely defray the operating costs of the postal service, these penny seals do much toward furnishing funds for the fight against the white plague. They erect sanatariums. They provide outdoor quarters for children. They make possible beds in hospitals for those without the means of paying for them. They assist in spreading the lessons of prevention and cure. They bring into being a light of hope where ordinarily there would be despair.

"A cherry picture this seal presents a child before a blazing hearth with the jovial face of the patron saint of Christmas going up the chimney. In most of the homes into which it will go there will be no sadness as the result of the scourge. But it will make them in their good fortune remember for a moment the suffering and the sickness of those less fortunate. By its very presence on the Christmas package it will send hope to both classes of homes.

"The Christmas seal has become an institution. It hardly needs a word in its favor. There is no reason to believe that the American people will overlook it this year."

This years' new life insurance is eleven billions, which certainly is a lot of arguing.

A pink-wildeat was captured in the Rockies. Perhaps it was blushing because it was so wild.

Eat More Hot Toast Says Head Housewives League

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Toast! Did you ever think of it otherwise than as a breakfast companion to a cup of hot coffee?

If you did, you are putting the thousands of housewives the Wheat Council of the United States is trying to convert, in the campaign it is conducting to popularize consumption of wheat in the form of toast.

"The housewife who serves toast only with the breakfast coffee is in the same class with the man who practices his golf on only on Sunday," says Mrs. Wilbur E. Tuthill, president of the Housewives' League and Chairman of the home economics division of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Cheap" Food.

[illegible]

"Not only is toast a great help for former [illegible] consumption, but it [illegible] delicious and nutritious.

Mrs. Tuthill makes these suggestions for serving toast: For breakfast, [illegible] with jelly, jam or marmalade, poached eggs on toast, milk toast; for luncheon, toasted sandwiches of any kind or any creamed meat, fish vegetable or cheese on toast; for in-between refreshments, toasted cheese welsh rarebit, cinnamon toast.

Receipts for some of these are suggested by the Wheat Council, follow:

Milk Toast

Place two slices of hot buttered toast in a soup plate and pour over them some hot salted milk. Sprinkle with paprika.

French Toast

Twelve slices white bread, 2 eggs, 1 cup milk, salt and pepper.

Beat eggs slightly; add salt, pepper and milk. Pour in soup plate and dip each slice into mixture. Let stand, spread on a platter, for half an hour. Butter toasted bars and toast on both sides. Serve very hot with powdered sugar, honey, syrup or jam.

Toasted Ham Sandwiches

Make sandwich with baked or boiled ham. Season it to taste and toast the outside. If you like lettuce and mayonnaise with it, have them ready to slip in as you take the sandwich off the toaster.

Cinnimon Toast

Mix one-half teaspoon ful of cinnimon thoroughly with one-third cup sugar. Sprinkle on hot well buttered toast. Toast the top side again. Raisins may be mixed with the sugar and cinnimon, made into a paste with melted butter and spread on toast.

Welsh Rarebit

Two teaspoons butter, ½ cup milk, 1½ teaspoons flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon mustard, ½ pound cheese.

Mix the butter and flour thoroughly in a sauce pan over the fire. Add the milk slowly, stirring constantly. Cook about two minutes. Set the pan in boiling water and add the cheese cut in small pieces, and the seasoning. As soon as the cheese is melted, the rarebit is ready to serve. Over-cooking makes the cheese tough and stringy. Pour the mixture on hot buttered toast and sprinkle with paprika. Have the plates hot and serve at once.

Toasted Cheese

Break an egg in a cup. Fill the cup half full with cream. Season with salt and pepper. Add crumbled bits of soft cheese to fill the cup. Mix thoroughly with a fork and spread on thin round pieces of bread that have been toasted on one side. Sprinkle with paprika and brown slowly under a rather low flame. Serve hot.

MARRIED

Jane Grey (above), actress and Ricardo Martin, tenor with the Chicago Grand Opera Company, have been married, it is learned. The ceremony was held nearly a month ago, and the couple succeeded in keeping it a secret this long.

The high cost of Santa Claus is worth it.

SPEAKING OF LUXURY

A novelty recently appeared in London streets in the form of a "spark-plug" side-car for motorcycles. This shows one in use—by a young woman's pup. Class, we say.

Presidential Hot Biscuits Her Specialty

Mrs. George W. Nichols, president of the Highland Park Woman's Club of Columbia, Tennessee, is famous for her hot beaten biscuits. She has sent a box of these every Thanksgiving to the last three presidents of the United States. This year President Coolidge was favored with the perfect specimens shown in the picture. Mrs. Nichols has consented to give us the recipe for her "presidential" biscuits. Here it is. Try it on your own chief executive:

"Into one and one-half pounds of flour work four full ounces of crisco, three level teaspoons of sugar and one and one-half teaspoons of salt. Mix this into a stiff dough with one cup of water. Work well with the hands, then roll through dough. Break until smooth and white. Roll about one third of an inch thick, cut, and pierce with fork and bake in a moderately hot oven for about 30 minutes, then let the fire reduce and bake for an hour or more. They should be dry throughout. This makes five dozen biscuits one and one-half inches in diameter."

Your Health

LASTING DISEASES

No doubt you are more or less familiar with some people who have what may be called lasting diseases. Oft-times these people, while incurable, either in their own minds or in reality, are well enough to be up and around.

Consumption is perhaps the best known of this group of long lived diseases. The question is often asked "Is it catching?" While sunlight and open air will offset, or render comparatively harmless, any bacilli of consumption which may be deposited out of doors, still the germs are spread and will invade the barnyx and lungs if opportunity permits.

The sputum, if not very carefully and hygenically burned, will surely scatter its bacilli, which may be inhaled.

Living with consumptives in the same house is not particularly dangerous if the strictest regulations concerning the hygenic habits are carried out.

Great care must be exercised at or near the end of life of a tubercular person. It is by this class that precautions are not so closely observed by patient or those in attendance, and the danger is great.

Persons who are suffering from tubercular diseases must avoid using the same utensils, garments, bed clothing or other things in the household in order that disease may not be spread to other members.

Don't cough when it can possibly be avoided. A drink of water or weak tea may aid yo uin controlling the habit or desire. To play safely first, always hold a cloth in front of your mouth while coughing.

The air conditions in a home where consumptives may live with others must be very carefully changed and kept at the right temperature—65-68 degrees. Sleeping with any tubercular person in the same room is dangerous. The living room of any such person should from time to time, say once in two weeks or every week, be thoroughly disinfected with formalin. This will insure a healthy air condition and prevent flies or other insects carrying any bacilli which may infect food or slight wounds.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

SHOP AROUND

It pays to buy standard necessities at special sales, but it is well to know the regular price of the regular quality.

LONGER WEAR

Your dresses and coats will keep their shapes much longer if you keep them on hangers, and your shoes will retain their shape more satisfactorily if you keep them on shoe trees when they are not on your feet.

FOR EFFICIENCY

Every housewife should have a desk for her husbands business' books, records, papers and accounts.

WALL PAPER

Wall paper should be like the mat in framing a picture: it should serve as the background rather than the picture. In small rooms or sun parlors where few pictures are used and the furniture is small, you can use elaborate or large patterned papers.

JACK FROST TABLE SALT

It does make a difference what kind of salt you use for seasoning food. JACK FROST SALT is pure and clean. You can depend upon the quality.
